Uncle Wiggily looked off among the traveling and, surely enough, along came a traveling tinker, with a box over his shoulder and a little fire in a tin pot in his band. Beside him walked a little hoy who had a little dog.

"Oh, daddy! Look at the rabbit gentleman," cried the little boy.

"I see him," said the tinker. "He is Uncle Wiggilly Longears, if I am not mistaken. Are you not," he asked.

"I am," answered the bunny uncle-shand I am in great trouble. I have sulintered and cracked my crutch and I can't limp along on it to get to Grand-

How You May Throw Away Your Glasses

The statement is made that thousands wear eyegianses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these classes may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themsolves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to Kelly & Pollard's drugstore and get who had it. Oh, I'm so glad I found you."

"And I'm glad, too," said the bunny uncle. "And Tommie will be glad when he sees you. Come slong, dogrie, I'l take you to him. It's a good thing I had this bene, which you smelled, or I might never have found you."

Then Uncle Wiggliy gave Little Tommie Tinkers dog some meat from Grandpa Goosey Gander's hone, and soot the little dog to Tommie and Mr. Tinkers, who had come back without having found Bow-Wow-Wow, You can just imagine how glad every one was that everything had come out all right, so Tommie could stay in the Moller Goose book and the little dog was glad also. also a doctor, but did not get any relief.
